DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1, 11, 21, 5-7, 17-19 and 24-26 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Komatsu [U.S. Pat. 5,646,616].

As to claims 1: Komatsu disclose a method comprising, a positioning a plurality of wireless tags (6) around a facility (see Fig. 1), providing a sensor (met by an antenna 60 combines with section 72) associated with a user to sense the tags (6) to determine the position of the user in the facility (as shown in Fig. 1-3 and col. 3, lines 15-25), and obtaining information about the route and direction of travel of a user through the facility (as cited in col. 2, lines 63-68 and col. 3, lines 37-40).

As to claim 11: Komatsu discloses an article comprising a medium (IC card 91) storing instructions that enable a processor-based system (met by a host computer) (col. 2, line 48), to receive information from a plurality of wireless tags (6) distributed about a facility, and analyze information form the tags to determine the location of a user, and obtain information about the route and direction of travel of the user through the facility (as shown in Fig. 1-3 and col. 2, lines 46-68 and col. 3, lines 29-40).

Art Unit: 2632

As to claim 21: Komatsu discloses a system comprising, a plurality of wireless tags (6) a wireless sensor associated with a user (60, 72), a processor (Fig. 3) associatable with a user, and a storage (73) coupled to said processor to determine the user's position based on information from said tags, said processor tracks the direction and movement of said user (as shown in Fig. 1-3 and col. 2, lines 46-68 and col. 3, lines 29-56 and col. 4, lines 1-30).

As to claims 5-7 and 9: Komatsu further discloses a plurality of sensors associated with the user, each sensor on a shopping cart and to sense the identify information from each of a plurality wireless tags to determine the position of the user in the facility (as shown in Fig. 1-3 and col. 3, lines 15-40).

As to claim 8: Komatsu further discloses wherein the information from said wireless tags (6) to a server (met by a host computer, col. 2, line 48), since the host computer is control the entire picking system (as cited in col. 2, lines 46-68).

As to claim 18: Refer to claim 8 above.

As to claims 17, 19, 24-26: Refer to claims 5-7 above.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Art Unit: 2632

4. Claims 2-4, 12-16, 22-23 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Komatsu [U.S. Pat. 5,646,616] in view of Jelen et al. [U.S. Pat. 6,119,935].

As to claims 2-4 : Komatsu discloses a host computer (cited in col. 2, line 48) comprising a process system in Fig. 3, which receives information from a sensor associated with the user (which met by an antenna 60) and an (IC card reader /writer 90) for pushing information to the shopping cart depending on the cart's current location (as shown in Fig. 3 and col. 2, lines 46-68), Komatsu fails to specify wherein the wireless linking a plurality of shopping carts through a local area network to the server, Jelen et al. teach a system which comprising a wirelessly link a plurality of shopping carts within a retail facility through a local area network to the server (58) and enable the carts to exchange information through said network, such as cart location (as shown in Fig. 1 and col. 4, lines 7-21). It would have been obvious of one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to employ a local area network as taught by Jelen et al. into the system of Komatsu for the purpose of a faster response, since a plurality of users (carts) are in the same facility area to be detected.

As to claims 12-16: Refer to claims 2-4 above.

As to claims 22-23 and 27: Refer to claims 2-4 above.

Art Unit: 2632

Remark responsive

Applicant:

1. There is no reference to keep track of the places that the user has been including the route and direction of travel.

Examiner:

1. Jelen is not specifically disclose a route and direction, however, Jelen disclosed a position locator in the store (col. 4, lines 40-41), it would have to be included some information such as direction (east, west, north or south) and route (isle or row) for the customer to know how to get to the requested product.

Conclusion

5. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure.

6. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL.

A shortened statutory period for response to this action is set to expire 3 months from the mailing date of this action.

Extensions of time under 37 CFR 1.136(a) do not apply in reexamination proceedings. The provisions of 37 CFR 1.136 apply only to "an applicant" and not to parties in a reexamination proceeding. Further, in 35 U.S.C. 305 and in 37 CFR 1.550(a), it is required that reexamination proceedings "will be conducted with special dispatch within the Office."

Extensions of time in reexamination proceedings are provided for in 37 CFR 1.550(c). A request for extension of time must be filed on or before the day on which a response to this action is due. The mere filing of a request will not effect any extension of time. An extension of time will be granted only for sufficient cause, and for a reasonable time specified.

Art Unit: 2632

The filing of a timely first response to this final rejection will be construed as including a request to extend the shortened statutory period for an additional month, which will be granted even if previous extensions have been granted. In no event however, will the statutory period for response expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of the final action. See MPEP § 2265.
